1. PURPOSE:

The adoption of the Industrial Internet of Things, Blockchain and Artificial Intelligence (AI) brings improved business outcomes to many, but it is not happening all at once and not without great effort. Networks are everywhere connecting devices with smarter and cheaper sensors. Cloud computing architectures offer less expensive data storage and new technologies and applications in data science will only improve the quality of data we have access to and the speed to which we receive it. This new revolution is increasing productivity, reducing costs, improving efficiencies, conserving resources and delivering a higher level of customer service.

The IOT Solutions Awards ceremony is set to recognize the work, leadership and transformation that stand out in the IOT, Blockchain and AI solutions nowadays.

2. TOPICS COVERED:

- Best Industry Solution Award
This award acknowledges the best product or service solution created by an organization in industrial IoT, Blockchain or AI. The award implies the identification of a need or unresolved issue subsequently addressed by the solution, and recognizes the positive impact on clients that have implemented this solution.
- Best Innovative Technology Award
The Innovative Technology Award recognizes the hardware and software behind successful IoT, Blockchain and AI solutions, selecting one organization that has created new technology based on an innovative approach, after having identified a critical aspect of IoT, Blockchain and AI not addressed by the current technological offering.
- Best Business Transformation Award
This award focuses on an organization that has implemented industrial IoT, Blockchain and AI to transform its systems and processes in a way which best takes advantage of all that the broader industrial IoT, Blockchain and AI ecosystem has to offer, whether by replacing an antiquated system, modernizing certain processes, or by creating a completely new paradigm for how a certain type of business is done, for example.
- Best Testbed Award
Of the 10 jury-selected testbeds highlighted in the IoT, Solution World Congress' Testbed area, one will be chosen for its best representation of IoT, Blockchain and AI, showcased in a real-world setting, ideally demonstrating how an ecosystem of players can come together to create an effective IoT, Blockchain and AI solution, and present it in a visual, dynamic, and highly engaging way.

3. TIMELINE:

The submission process has 4 major steps:

1. Submission: Awards must be submitted by 9 July, 2018.
2. Review: All proposals will be reviewed by a Jury of experts to ensure that submission criteria are met.
